

Introducing air

Sam's Chair

Sam had a chair in her room that had been there for a long time. One day, she sat on it and it broke.

“You are Goldilocks!” laughed Dad. Sam did not find Dad’s joke funny. “Never mind,” said Dad, “it was getting very small for you anyway. We will get you a new one.”

Sam was delighted when they went to the shop the next day. Dad bought her a brand new chair and a desk to match! She felt very grown up!

a, i and r are a team. They say air.

Action

Hold a chair, move it in and out from a desk.

Say 'air, air,
air'.

Write the Letters

Around the apple, up the stalk and down the leaf.

Down the body and tail, dot the head.

Down the robot's body, up and over its arm.

Practise

Check

Practise

Check

Practise

Check

Practise

Check

Practise

Check

When Sam arrived home with her new desk and chair Kit came to admire it too. “It’s very comfy.” said Kit, as he sat down. “Look what happened while you and Dad were at the shop...”

Now, we need a pair.
• — • — • • —

“We love our new chairs and desks!” said Kit and Sam.
“They are very lovely,” said Mum. “Now you both have somewhere to go and do your homework too!” Mum smiled.

Today, we have learnt...

air

