Party Preparations

a and e are cheeky partners. When a and e work together, they say /ai/.

a and e are too cheeky to sit together so they have to have a letter sit between them.

a — e

It was nearly Kit and Sam's birthday. The twins were very excited. They were going to have a joint party!

Sam asked, "What would you like as a present?"
"Hmm, maybe a fluffy toy? How about you?" asked Kit.
"I think I would like a car," replied Sam.

While Kit was licking his lips and thinking of birthday cake, Mum shouted from the kitchen, "Sam! Kit! Can you please help me?"

Mum needs Kit and Sam to check the party list. The cheeky partners a and e make the /ai/ sound. Can you read the a_e words on Mum's list?

“I want to make plenty of food for the party,” said Mum.
“Can we help?” shouted Kit. “I can bake the cake! That’s the most important job!” he said, licking his lips again.

“I could do with some help too!” said Dad, who stumbled in carrying a box of decorations.

“I’ll help you with those,” said Sam.

“I think so,” said Dad as he pulled out a stripy snake.
“Yay, I love to play the snake game!” cried Sam.

Today, we have learnt...
